JOHN G. POTTER & SON
BUY MEAT BUSINESS.
McCarthy Brothers Will Retire and Goods Will Be Removed to East Side.

McCarthy Brothers, grocers and meat market at 262 Main street, on Thursday sold out their business to John G. Potter & Son of the East Side.
The store at Main street will be relocated and the stock removed to Mr.
Potter & Son's store. McCarthy Brothers have conducted the store there for the past three years, having purchased it of S. A. Bailey. The store has been under the management of James D. McCarthy, and has been conducted on prosperous business lines. Mr. McCarthy will enter the store of J. G. Potter & Son.

On Thursday evening the family of the store of J. G. Potter & Son, East Side, will be closed all day Tuesday.

BROADWAY THEATER.
"The Gamblers."

The dramatic roster of 1908 could not successfully close until another play had been added to the list and another triumph accorded Alicia Ramond. The author of "The Gamblers," which saw its initial performance at Pull's theater, Waterbury, last Thursday evening. Strong in every sense of the word, a drama that certainly takes its place with the best that can be produced. There is no padding, no padding, no padding, no padding, but a splendidly conceived, well written, compact gem of dramatic intensity. The story is beautifully told and as the plot unfolds, the whole is woven into a wholesome, clean and magnificent presentation. It opens with the death of an old aristocratic who had been driven from the plane of society he should have occupied, because of his gambling inclinations. He has a daughter whose care he intrusts to his brother and sister. She is beautiful and that beauty attracts the moths to the flame. The theme around which the plot is woven, and the playing of this in the third act, where the young duchess enters the young girl with the marked cards, is one of the most powerful situations that any drama has ever possessed.

"The Gamblers" comes to the Broadway theater, Wednesday, January 6.

This Week at Sheedy's.
A big lot of unusual merit is promised by Mr. Sheedy for next week bringing here a big headliner, Whitman, Murphy & Co. in George E.
Murphy's sketch, "The Prodigals," which is a scream. Miss Mae Crocker will be heard in two of the best songs illustrated yet in childhood and the latest of the U. S. S.
The dignity singing comedienne, Miss May Melville, will be seen for the first time here and with a style all her own is sure to receive a fine reception. In the comedy "The Kaiser's Comedy Dogs" all the most have a chance to see one of the most wonderful comedies of trained canines before the public. The comedies of youth of late have been recognized by all as the best ever seen in this city and for next week the films are still better.

TROLLEY REGISTER
Was to Be Used by New Haven ex-Conductor to Defraud Company.

"A former trolley car conductor is under arrest at New Haven for trying a brand new plan of theft.
One night back in October a car register disappeared from one of the large open cars of the company. This car was one of those which the company for lack of available space left out near the Ferry street barns. The barns were not locked at the time.
Thomas Keyes, who is in charge of the barns, and he in turn informed Acting Manager Harlan, who reported the case to the police. After waiting in the vicinity several nights to see if any further attempts were made to steal any other registers the detectives gave up that end of the game and started in on another tack. This week Sergeant Donnelly and Detective Lavelle brought in ex-conductor Charles G. Turner, a 60 State street, who is now employed in a department store where he was arrested.

This is the game for which it appears, according to facts learned by the detectives, the cash register was stolen. Millions of dollars in cash registers are in use in the world. This night not long ago in the vicinity of the barns a conductor on one of the interurban runs on which the conductors change registers where the conductors change to have the conductor put up the stolen register to ring up a number of fares on and then ring up the rest on the regular register which belonged to the car.

$15,000 BEQUESTS
Made by Mrs. E. E. Hubbard of Middletown.

At Middletown the executors of the will of Mrs. E. E. Hubbard have made known the public bequests made by her. They amount to over $15,000 and with two exceptions are to local organizations. To Christ church, South Farms, Mrs. Hubbard left $5,000 and the rectory, which she built a number of years ago, to the $5,000. To the Connecticut Industrial school for girls in Middletown, and the same amount to St. Luke's home. To the church of the Holy Trinity, of which church she was a communicant, Mrs. Hubbard left $1,000. The Domestic and Foreign Missionary society of the Protestant Episcopal church and the Middletown Ecclesiastical society were each given $1,000. The sum of $500 each was left to the Connecticut Alliance society and to the Indian Hill Campany association of Middletown.

A train of cars a half mile long is nothing. President Underwood of the Erie has an engine that weighs 573, one pounds, the largest and most powerful locomotive in the world. This monster, and monstrously, with sixteen driving wheels, hauls a freight train of 250 cars, two miles long.

PERSONS TALKED ABOUT.

H. H. Rogers has now ordered a $20-000 pair of brass doors and a font for his church in Andover, Mass., and has given it a masterful commission set in memory of his mother.

Edward H. Hyatt, superintendent of public instruction in California, is to ask the next legislature to provide text books for the public school children of that state at public expense.

A big buck that has escaped and tarnished the hunters of the Rangely ven-erion for years past was shot a week ago. Miss Ella Beal, a Phillips school-girl, did it with her little 25 caliber rifle.

Miss Rosa Becker has been appointed a claim agent and United States person attorney in Missouri. She has been known for years as one of the most successful women in St. Louis, being a rotary public and an insurance agent.

Benjamin Franklin Clarke, professor emeritus of mechanical engineering at the Brown university, who shared with Prof. John Howard Appleton the honor of being the oldest man on the faculty in point of years service, died recently in Providence, R. I.

Rev. Israel Luce of Old Orchard, one of Maine's best known Methodist clergymen and a secretary of the Maine Christian Civic league, who was born in Knox, Albany, county, N. Y., and who started preaching as a licensed exhorter in Schoharie, N. Y., when 17 years old, died at the age of 74 years.

If reports from the orient may be relied upon, the grand vizier's list of senators to be submitted to the sultan at Constantinople for approval, will contain the names of two Jews—David Effendi Mohs, first dragoman of the Imperial harem, and Behor Effendi En-kharat, a member of the state council.

Francisco Auguste Gevaret, the famous Belgian composer and writer on musical topics, is dead. He died in Brussels at the age of 80. His birthday was celebrated last summer with great ceremony by his compatriots.
He was born in Huyse in eastern Belgium, on July 31, 1828, and studied music at the Conservatory of Ghent.

A granddaughter of Philip Freneau, the revolutionary poet, Miss Mary Hammill, of Locust Grove, L. I., is under industry as to her sanity at the instance of neighbors, who found her starving and freezing in the house where she has been living alone. She is wealthy, but persists in denying herself food and warmth.

In his lifetime the late John S. Smith of North Kingston, R. I., pleased himself in the matter of clothes, preferring early colonial patterns to modern ones, and Monday of last week he had the kind of funeral he wanted and had asked for. The coffin was placed in a farm wagon and was taken to the graveyard by a yoke of oxen, the family and neighbors following on foot.

Prof. Austin Sandford, for thirty years a professor in the Albany high school, died suddenly. He was stricken on with hemorrhage of the brain last Sunday. Professor Sandford was born in East Bridgewater, Mass., in 1844, became a member of the high school faculty in 1872, and is survived by three brothers—Ballis, William and Eugene Sandford, well known Boston business men.

SIDEWALKS

Office of Street Commissioner, Norwich, Dec. 12, 1908.
Sec. 16.—The owner or owners, occupant or occupants, private corporations or any person having the care of any building or lot of land bordering on any street, square or public place within the city where there is a sidewalk grated, or in the graded and paved, shall cause to be removed therefrom any and all snow, sleet and ice within three hours after the same shall have fallen, been deposited or found, or within three hours after sunrise, when the same shall have fallen in the night season.

Sec. 17.—Whenever the sidewalk, or any part thereof, adjoining or fronting any building or lot of land, or any square, square or public place, shall be covered with ice, it shall be the duty of the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, private corporations, or any persons having the care of such building or lot of land, to cause such sidewalk to be made safe and convenient by removing the ice therefrom, or by covering the same with sand or some other suitable substance, and in case such owner or owners, occupant or occupants shall neglect to do so for the space of two hours during the day time, the person or persons charged with the same shall be liable to a civil penalty of $100, which shall be paid by the person or persons charged with the same.

Sec. 18.—The owner or owners, occupant or occupants, private corporations
building or lot of land and whose duty it is to keep the same safe and convenient, shall be liable to a civil penalty of $100, which shall be paid by the person or persons charged with the same, if they neglect to comply with the provisions of this ordinance, or if they neglect to remove any snow, sleet or ice from the sidewalk, or if they neglect to cover the same with sand or some other suitable substance, or if they neglect to keep the same safe and convenient.

Sec. 19.—The person or persons charged with the duty of removing snow, sleet and ice from the sidewalk, or of covering
able substance, shall be liable to a civil penalty of $100, which shall be paid by the person or persons charged with the same, if they neglect to comply with the provisions of this ordinance, or if they neglect to remove any snow, sleet or ice from the sidewalk, or if they neglect to cover the same with sand or some other suitable substance, or if they neglect to keep the same safe and convenient.

Sec. 20.—The person or persons charged
penalty of $100, which shall be paid by

BUSINESS NEWS

Anna Wermuth, a woman who was known for many years as the laundress to the emperor, died in the Home of the Aged in Vienna recently. She was asked to boast of the fact that she was a born washerwoman. In the revolution of 1848 she took part in the barricade fights and acted as nurse for the wounded revolutionists. From her home she directed the work of the organized washerwomen and for years, on occasions when the various guilds paraded, always led the women of her calling.
